BELLE GLADE — PAHOKEE, FL.

KENNETH HARRIS was sworn in last Friday as a candidate for the special Belle Glade city election on Jan. 23. Commissioner Dorothy Walker qualified at noon today. Harris brought about the election when a suit he filed after the Sept.

11 election was found in his favor last week, voiding Ms. Dorothy Walker, who had defeated Harris in his bid for a third term. Would-be candidates have until Jan. 9 to qualify for the special election.

Glades General board breaks hiring tradition

BELLE GLADE—The Glades General Hospital Board of Trustees broke tradition Wednesday night when they went over the collective heads of the medical staff to give hospital privileges to two physicians without the approval of the medical staff.

The board certified Dr. Richard Thomas to operate as the hospital's emergency services director and appointed him and Dr. Patrick Riordan to the medical staff shortly after approving the rest of the staff for reappointment.

Board Chairman Sandra Chamble said she was reluctant to take the step over the heads of the other staff physicians but the board had submitted the names of Thomas and Riordan to the staff for approval or disapproval on Oct. 1 and had since asked in writing for action by Christmas Day, all with no action being taken.

The board directed Hospital Administrator Patrick Lennon, during its November meeting, to write a letter to Medical Chief of Staff Dr. J. Allen Baker, saying the board wanted action taken before Wednesday night's meeting.

Since that time, the medical staff has held its annual reorganizational meeting, naming Dr. Manuel Soto chief of staff.

Dr. Soto attended Wednesday night's meeting and said that while the only holdup on approving Dr. Riordan has been a request for more information, there were other reservations on Dr. Thomas.

Several of the board members said they would like to know what the reservations were. Dr. Soto said they were delicate and asked several times to discuss it, "for five minutes" with board attorney Robert Mathews but Mathews declined, saying it would constitute conflict of interest.

Mathews also said the problem was no longer one of reservations on the medical staff's part but one of due process; that the board had asked for action, in writing, and the staff hadn't responded after adequate time.

Appointment of a physician to the hospital medical staff begins when the board submits his or her name to the staff credentials committee. Within 60 days, the credentials committee is to make a recommendation to the full staff and the staff is to recommend to the board to defer action, to approve or disapprove the appointment.

The names of both physicians being discussed Wednesday were submitted Oct. 1, according to Lennon, and the credentials committee had deferred on Dr. Riordan, asking for more information on his medical education, but had recommended approval of Thomas to the medical staff. Lennon said he has no record of the medical staff making a decision on either doctor.

Dr. Soto said several times the problem with Dr. Riordan was, "nothing but a matter of paperwork, just a few papers," which Lennon said had been procured and delivered to the staff "a month and a half ago."

The information the staff said it wanted on Riordan, Lennon said earlier, was proof of his graduation from medical school at National University of Ireland.

He said the information had originally been supplied through the Educational Council for Foreign Medical Graduates, which had also been used to supply information about the education of all the Cuban physicians now operating at the hospital.

Lennon said at that time the information had been considered sufficient for other physicians at the hospital and he couldn't understand why it wasn't sufficient in Riordan's case.

In Dr. Thomas' case, Dr. Soto said he could not, Wednesday

Babson says 1980 forecast is uncertain

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., December 27, 1979. Just a year ago we envisioned in our forecast for 1979 a slowing in the economic tempo of sufficient scope to create a technical state of recession, stemming from the effects of anti-inflation monetary measures. We did point out, however, that the intrinsic strength of the economy would forestall a deep, prolonged business dislocation. Instead, we looked for "real" gross national product to show only enough softening in the second and third quarters of the year to constitute a recession. Visualized was a mild and brief setback, more the nature of a spell of no growth, with the economy again on the mend by the fourth quarter of 1979.

The statistical evidence now shows that there was enough resilience to produce a sharp rebound in the third quarter, negating the spring slump. So, even though 1979's final quarter was adversely impacted by broader, more aggressive anti-inflation program instituted by the Federal Reserve, the year as a whole did not suffer an economic recession. This was an impressive achievement in view of the heights to which interest rates and inflation had soared.

RECESSION THREAT HEIGHTENED FOR 1980

Developments of the past three months have raised the odds that 1980 will experience the economic recession which 1979 escaped. The Fed's credit-tightening move took an ever increasing toll on business as the final 1979 quarter progressed. When the results for that period are made public, "real" gross national product (GNP excluding inflation) will probably show some loss. Since we now expect this business barometer to move off further in the initial quarter of 1980, the required two consecutive quarters of lower "real" GNP readings will have been recorded to constitute a recession.

STEEPER, LONGER RECESSION THAN PREVIOUSLY EXPECTED

The staff of Babson's Reports looks, in fact, for the downward slide of "real" gross national product to extend through the second quarter of 1980. The recession, therefore, will very likely last a bit longer than we had previously anticipated. Also, the depth of the downturn is currently expected to approximate 4% from the high of the third quarter of 1979. The scope of the recession we now foresee is not unrealistic since we have experienced only the early effects of the anti-inflation program started last fall. In addition, the fight has been made all the more difficult by the further climb in prices for petroleum products. And the implications of conditions in Iran and of U. S. Iran relations are anything but reassuring for the petroleum picture, in terms of both prices and supplies. This does not augur well for the domestic automobile industry which has been in a beleaguered state for many months, and the tightening of credit compounds its troubles. Extremely high borrowing costs and scarcer mortgage money are hurting residential building. Therefore, neither of these key industries will be of much help in 1980.

Fortunately, there are no massive imbalances to correct. Except for the excessive supplies of high-gasoline-consumption autos relative to retail demand, there are no appreciable inventory problems in the economy. Hence, this time around, the period of economic adjustment is not expected to be as vicious as the last recession. The first two 1980 quarters will see the business tempo on the wane, with the first three months likely to bear the brunt of the losses. By the time summer rolls around, the economy should stabilize and perhaps edge a bit upward. The final three 1980 months will make additional headway, with vitality somewhat more evident. But the upturn in the second half of 1980 will not be as power-packed as the rebound from the last recession because inflation will be difficult to defuse. While the economic recession will not be unduly painful, neither the ensuing recovery phase be initially vigorous.

Make no mistake, there are problems and uncertainties which are capable of inflicting greater damage to the economy than may now seem likely. The uncertain economic climate itself and the questions which are sure to arise in the quadrennial national elections, including those concerning anti-American violence, must be watched closely.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

We look for industrial production to trend lower through mid-1980. Since a good deal of the decline will be recouped over the second half of the year, we feel the annual rate of industrial activity will average only about 1% below the 1979 average. Bear in mind that auto production and related businesses have already been working downward for the better part of 1979, as has home building. But these two sectors should lead the late-1980 recovery. Construction, communications, steel,

Woman is arrested

BELLE GLADE—A 19-year old local woman is being held without bail by Belle Glade police in the Christmas Eve shooting death of Lyherson Dorval, 40, of 541 S. W. Ave. B Place.

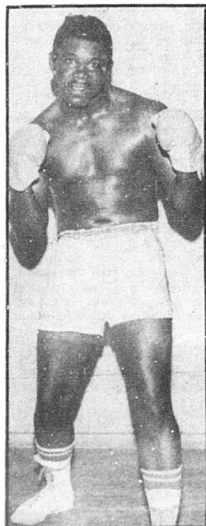

Lt. Michael Miller of the police department said Annie Mae Hughes, of the same address, was being held this week on charges of first degree murder of Dorval after Dorval died in St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Miller said the shooting was the result of a domestic argument between the two and a total of five shots were fired from a small caliber handgun which later disappeared.

Dorval was shot twice in the melee, one round going through his shoulder and lodging in his chest and the other entering the victim's head.

He was taken to Glades General Hospital and then transported to St. Mary's, where he died Monday evening.

Ms. Hughes telephoned the police and she was picked up by a block away by Patrolman David Tatum.

Fighters return home

BELLE GLADE—A former world champion is scheduled to join a pair of former Belle Glade residents trying to make their mark in the boxing world Friday, along with a local promoter trying to start a tradition, in a boxing card at Lake Shore Middle School.

Jersey Joe Walcott, according to J. L. Foster manager of Foster's Pool Room, will be the special referee in a four-fight card featuring Belle Glade boxer Jeff Sims and Tom Prater, who is originally from the Glades.

Foster said the program is the first of what he hopes will become the annual J. L. Foster Christmas Fund Show, with proceeds going toward area kids.

Foster said he hasn't worked out the details yet, but he will probably funnel the proceeds through local athletic programs.

He said the fights will get underway at 8 p.m., ending in a ten-round match between Prater and Walter White of Tampa and a ten-round match between Sims and Tiger Brown of Orlando.

Bob Gordon, who said he was working with Foster, said Sims, who is being managed by Chris Dundee, is undefeated in six professional bouts and none of his opponents have lasted past the second round and all the wins have come on knockouts.

Sims began his boxing career while at Glades Correctional Institution, winning 33 of 34 amateur bouts and pulling a draw on the other one.

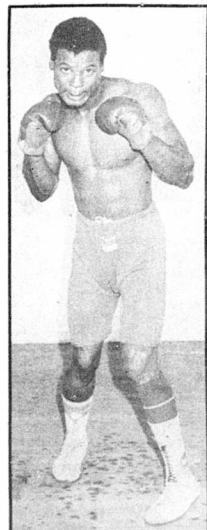

One of Sims' six professional bouts was fought here in Belle Glade on Memorial Day, when he knocked out Bob Ellis of Orlando in two minutes and 20 seconds of the first round.

Since then, he knocked out Glen Morgan of Miami on Nov. 27 in the Miami Beach Convention Center. Gordon said this was probably Sims' most important fight so far because Morgan had a 21-5 professional record. He said Morgan was knocked out two minutes and ten seconds into the second round and stayed unconscious for five minutes after he went down.

Gordon said Sims also defeated Phil Fritz of the Bahamas at the convention center on Dec. 18 in one minute, 18 seconds of the first round.

Let the seller beware

Considering the somewhat less-than-impressed reaction in Iran to recent decisions in the United Nations and the World Court at the Hague, last week's action in the petroleum industry shouldn't have been too surprising.

It's obvious the value of world opinion has taken a plunge almost as steep as the skid taken by the dollar.

It wasn't all that unexpected when Saudi Arabia, staunch friend and ally that they are, raised the price of oil from $18 to $24 a barrel.

That's a lot of costs less than 50 cents a barrel to produce, by the way, and in a market situation when a million more barrels per day are being produced than are being used.

Which doesn't say much for the law of supply and demand either since by that law, the price of crude should be dropping instead of going through a 30 per cent price hike.

The quick prediction was that the increase would mean a 10 to 15 cent-per-gallon price hike to motorists at the gas pumps but anyone who's bought gas recently may have noticed that no sooner were the words out of Saudi Arabia's mouths than gas jumped 6 cents a gallon and warnings were passed along that we could expect another price jump right after Christmas.

Merry Christmas!

There was a time when the big oil companies may have been able to convince some people they were only doing what comes naturally but passing along a price increase before the higher priced merchandise comes in has been outlawed in super markets. Seems like the same law would apply here.

As distasteful as is the idea of nationalizing any business, there'll come a time when this "Public be damned" attitude is going to breed a "Big business be damned" attitude on the part of people who pay for these increases in the end.

To the old warning about, "Let the buyer beware", the prudent businessman may be forced in the foreseeable future to, "Let the seller beware."

Bare court made human

The Supreme Court of the United States has generally kept itself off-limits to prying journalists. While executive and legislative offices around Washington at various times have provided leaks by the bucketful to reporters, justices of the Supreme Court have seen to it that their chambers and conference room were as impenetrable as the 13-ton bronze doors on their imposing building.

Bob Woodward and Scott Armstrong of the Washington Post have heated up their investigation reporting to the melting point of bronze. Their new book The Brethren completes the circle of revelations from the inner sanctums of American government that began with the Pentagon Papers and Watergate. They have pieced together an intimate account of how the Supreme Court worked its way through most of the major issues that came before it between 1969 and 1978.

What is told about the personal foibles of justices who are celebrities of the legal world is helping make The Brethren a bestseller. While Woodward and Armstrong have taken some obvious liberties in attributing thoughts and feelings to justices on the basis of second-hand information, there is no reason to doubt that their seldom-flattering judicial portraits are more or less true to life. It is hardly sensational, however, to discover that Supreme Court justices are human.

If Americans thought otherwise about the men on their highest court it is only because they wanted to. It is comforting to believe that judges are above personal jealousies, vanity, laziness, or a tendency to worry as much about the political impact of a decision as about its legal purity. The mystique of the Supreme Court is largely in the eyes of the beholder, reinforced by the ceremonial trappings of the court's public proceedings which help give dignity to the law.

The dignity of the Supreme Court, if not the law, takes a beating in the pages of The Brethren. The conduct of some of the justices in deciding important national issues, if the book's account is accurate, raises ethical questions that will be the subject of our comment in the future. For now we will say that one of the most shocking revelations is not in the body of the book but in its introduction, where the authors report:

"We obtained internal memoranda between justices, letters, notes taken at conference, case assignment sheets, diaries, unpublished drafts of opinions and, in several instances, drafts that were never circulated even to the other Justices. By the time we had concluded our research, we had filled eight file drawers with thousands of pages of documents from the chambers of eleven of the twelve justices who served during the period 1969 to 1978."

If the Supreme Court has been knocked off a pedestal by this book, the responsibility lies with those justices and law clerks who told the authors what they wanted to know, and handed them documentation to back it up. The bronze doors were not breached from without, but from within.

The authority of the Supreme Court comes from the Constitution, not from any sacrosanct image, so it will survive this public washday. Woodward and Armstrong say they interviewed no one about any cases that have reached the court since 1978. The current activities of the court remain as private as the justices and their clerks choose to keep them. But that leads to a pertinent question:

Would the quality of Supreme Court deliberations and the resulting decisions be improved if the manner in which justices resolve their disagreements were known at the time a ruling was made? Or would a more open court so inhibit the process that justice would be distorted in the end?

That issue already has been joined in California. Public hearings by the Judicial Performance Commission earlier this year disclosed that our state Supreme Court is given to the same kind of personal conflicts and questionable performance now known to beset the "brethren" in Washington. One result is a proposal in Sacramento that the state court be required to conduct more of its deliberations in public.

As official Washington scoops up copies of The Brethren it would not be surprising if the U.S. Supreme Court hears rumblings from Capitol Hill. If, therefore, the justices and their clerks are worried that their long-honored privacy is endangered, they have only themselves to blame and we, the public, will be the better for it.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Much has been written and said regarding the issue of Dorothy Walker, who was removed from the office of city commissioner on December 18 by a judge in West Palm Beach. I feel strongly, however, that not enough has been said and written about the situation.

The Glades Central Class of '73 will remember that Dorothy has always been a "doer", especially when armed with the courage of her convictions. But she is no different than any of us, other than the fact that she campaigned for and won the office of city commissioner of Belle Glade. She has known the heat and sweat on a hot summer day in corn fields and bean fields. She has known frustration and despair, as we all have.

Can anyone imagine how she felt when she accidentally found that the election had been voided during a time she was worrying about final exams? And yet, in the face of staggering odds, she has decided to run again to represent you, the citizens of Belle Glade. Enduring threats upon her very life, she has vowed to fight the expensive legal battle until there is but one victor in a game of life in which most of us would never enlist.

If you believe that Dorothy Walker is doing all of this for herself, think again because she could have quit long ago when an anonymous caller told her she would "be dead by morning." I am not asking you to vote for her—she will ask you herself. I am saying that she has the courage, conviction and spirit to deserve it.

Sincerely,
s/s Kenneth Brown

One of the scariest things I know of that we're looking forward to during the 1980s is that we're only four years away from 1984 . . . and it doesn't seem all that impossible.

Just think: in January 1970, what the heck did you know about Watergate? If anybody asked me at the time, the only thing I could've come up with would've been, "Must be some kind of dam, why?"

Now, it's become so deeply rooted in the American idiom, most of us are sick to death of hearing about it.

Ten years doesn't seem like such a long time but it only took the two years between 1970 and 1972 to let a lot of us know that by then, the only choice we had for when we went to the polls to vote was between a crook and a madman—idiot who would've done anything to appease the nation's enemies.

Remember Vietnam? I know, I know, there's a bunch of us who've died all we could to forget it.

Luther Davis and Pat McElroy have a hunting camp in Everglades and it has been used many times by many hunters so we will not attempt to be too specific about the individuals . . . but the yarn goes something like this . . .

Night airplane traffic over the glades is such that some entertain themselves at night by trying to "coax" a plane closer rather than listening to a radio or listening to the hoot owls hoot.

This particular party had from time to time used an assortment of flashing lights hoping that by some chance a bag or two of illegal contraband might fall into their camp.

One night, much to their surprise, a plane did bank over the camp and two bags of "white powder" dropped in front of the campers.

The two bags were hastily broken open. One of the guys sniffed long and hard and noted that "it must be pure stuff." The other guy, acted similarly, but noted that it was "bad stuff."

The first guy, convinced that it was the real thing continued to sniff until his nostrils were almost stopped up, meanwhile giving the appearance of going on a real trip.

Like all good things, the party came to an end. The next morning Voss Badcock strolled into camp to enjoy a cup of coffee and quipped that he would love to have a biscuit. Without thinking, the boys in camp noted that it took flour and that they didn't have any.

Oh, yes you have, quipped Badcock, I dropped you some last night!

Few weeks ago, Sgt. Carlos Sloan, better known as Festus, was called to a beverage dispensing business on the outskirts of Clewiston to officiate at a brawl which he loosely termed as the cowboys versus the rednecks.

Festus strolled down the line between the two facing groups and warned that if a single lick was passed he would lock up the entire bunch. Before he could get to his car to call for back-ups he described the situation as "all hell broke loose!"

Being a veteran law enforcement officer and a man of a brawl or two himself, he decided to let the initial tension wear off before wading in. With the back door of his patrol car open and the slap stick flying, he began to load 'em friends and enemies alike.

About the time he got six of 'em loaded, Capt. Herb Higdon arrived on the scene for back-up purposes. Carlos opened his door and began to toss 'em in there. After nine were loaded, the remainder began to head for the open spaces.

Higdon surveyed the situation and quipped . . . "Carlos, you didn't leave enough to dance!"

Every now and then during your life, your path crosses a bit of living history.

When I was about 10 or 11, I had my first ride in an airplane. I was a little nervous. Actually I was scared to death. I rode in the back seat of a four seater to Waycross, Georgia, and then back to Jacksonville. The flight was uneventful. Dull actually.

But with the pilot I had, it probably couldn't have been any other way.

His name was and is Laurie Yonge.

I saw in the paper the other day that Mr. Yonge is alive and well. Now 83, he still flies and is about to be honored in Jacksonville.

Yonge and aviation go back a long ways together. His pilot's license was first signed by Orville Wright.

As of Dec. 27, the final approach fix to runway 31 at Jacksonville International Airport will be listed on Aviation charts as the Laurie Yonge Fix.

Yonge used to have a hangar at old Ineson Airport — which had the best demuts in town. The hangar is gone now, but almost directly over this site is the Laurie Yonge fix.

A final approach fix is a navigational aid where all aircraft make final turns toward a runway.

It is at the final fix that pilots have their last radio communication with the tower.

Yonge is only the second pilot to be so recognized. Another aviation Pioneer was honored in Chicago previously.

Yonge began flying a plane called the Jenny in 1918. He once flew the biplane "The Spirit of Jacksonville" 70 miles out into the Atlantic from Virginia in foul weather to greet the cruiser Memphis.

The year was 1927 and the ship's most famous passenger was one Charles Lindbergh, returning from the first solo crossing of the Atlantic Ocean.

Yonge dropped a message to Lindbergh inviting the Lone Eagle to visit Jacksonville. A few months later, Lindbergh flew down to Jacksonville to accept the invitation.

Yonge is credited with establishing the first air mail route in Florida, hacking out the first landing field here, helping to map the Okefenokee Swamp, organizing Florida's first Civil Air Patrol, and setting a record for unrefueled flight of 26 hours.

Yonge is scheduled to fly the approach from Yonge Fix shortly before 2 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 27 and taxi in for a reception.

her?) for president and John Grady (He's hard to forget in Belle Glade.) for vice president.

Grabbed the attention of a certain newspaper on the coast too but that's probably as close to Washington as the message traveled.

Ten years . . . from Vietnam to Iran. Ten years from the second most divisive event in the nation's history to one of the most unifying things that's ever happened to the U. S. of A.

Seems as if the American people can't come up with Ho Chi Minh, we'll find an Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. If we can't send troops and the Enterprise into Southeast Asia and the South China Sea, we'll get some diplomatic kidnapper in Iran and send the Kitty Hawk and the Nimitz into the Arabian Sea.

So what else in new?

Try television games on for size. Ten years ago, we only watched 'em. Nowadays, there are a lot of people who play 'em.

Ten years ago this summer, Teddy Kennedy earned the nickname "The Chappaquiddick Kid", just about the time we watched Neil Armstrong take that first big step for mankind.

Now, the ghost of Mary Jo Kopeckne has come back to haunt him in his quest for the presidency, along with his more recent foot-in-mouth diseased comments on the former Shah of Iran.

Ten years ago, Jimmy Carter was a not-very-well-known Georgia peanut farmer who was soon to become a not-very-well-known Georgia governor.

And who the heck had ever heard of brother, Billy, mother Lillie or daughter, Amy . . . and who the heck cared?

Ten years ago, there were people who couldn't spell ecology, or had never heard of it. Now, is there a person in the country who hasn't heard of the Snail Darter and its importance to the American Way of Life?

Ten years ago, people were arguing about the Cross Florida Barge Canal. Well, I guess everything doesn't change in ten years.

Plant clinic, seminar is Jan. 4

The monthly horticultural seminar and plant clinic held by Palm Beach County Department of Agriculture Urban Horticulturist Gene Joyner have been set for their new morning times on Jan. 4 at the Glades Office Building.

The monthly seminar will be held at 9:30 a.m., Joyner said, and will address landscaping. The plant clinic will be held at 11 a.m.

"A lot of people," Joyner said, who are new to the area, or even some of our long-time residents, occasionally experience difficulty in choosing the right shrubs to be placed in certain landscape situations. Often times one is faced with a bewildering array of types of shrubs, many of which can be used in the same types of situations.

Joyner will present a slide-illustrated lecture and have pamphlets on shrubs and hedges available for free distribution.

The plant clinic will be conducted by Joyner for the benefits of people who are having problems with various plants and need help diagnosing the problem and how to correct it.

The clinic is not a formal class or lecture and is conducted on an informal basis. Persons who are unable to come to Joyner may telephone him at the county agricultural office at 996-4800, extension 33.

heavyweight like Sims but who will soon be fighting in the new Cruiserweight division of 178-190 pounds, has a 35-19-3 record and fought World Champion Larry Holmes in 1976 during the eliminations after Ali retired.

They said Prater lost a decision after 12 rounds to Holmes, who is still undefeated. They said he also won a decision against Leon Spinks in an amateur fight several years ago.

Gordon said Prater has also fought and has a rematch with the British heavyweight champion.

Besides setting up an annual fund raiser, Foster said he is also interested in beginning a monthly fight card if he can get the local interest and can attract quality boxers.

night, recommend his appointment but the board appointed him anyway.

Dr. Soto said that since the original credentials committee meeting, when Dr. Thomas had been recommended for appointment, other information had come up. He also said Lennon was apparently not in possession of the minutes of two other meetings which referred to that information.

"We need physicians in this town," Mrs. Chamblee said. "I think this is very discouraging to new physicians, when the medical staff is apparently, for lack of better words, dragging its feet."

"I think," she said, "the staff is going to have to fulfill its responsibility or be superseded by the board."

Board member Lee Berryhill said he could understand if the staff has a legitimate objection, "but I would hate to see somebody railroaded."

"It's happened before," Berryhill went on. "There is a doctor in Pahokee who has built up tremendous practice after being refused privileges here."

"If it's something legitimate, okay," he said, "but it it's railroaded, I don't believe the public is going to like it if they find out it's happening."

Berryhill said he had heard a number of times over the years that some doctors in town think there are enough physicians here.

Board Member Don Tanner moved to appoint Dr. Thomas to the staff, saying the reason he was taking the step is that he had talked to a physician who had worked in the emergency room with Dr. Thomas and had been told, "he's a good man and would be an asset to the hospital."

Mrs. Chamblee told Dr. Soto the responsibility for appointing Dr. Thomas would be assumed by the board, not the medical staff. She noted that although he would be on the staff, he would also be an employee of the hospital.

In other action concerning the medical staff, the board approved committee assignments, the reappointment of all physicians to the staff and new officers.

Aside from naming Dr. Soto as chief of staff, other new officers include Dr. Ahmed Barhoush as vice chief of staff, Dr. Roy W. Brown as secretary-treasurer, Dr. Luis Guerrero as chief of surgery, Dr. Rolando Piedro as chief of medicine and Dr. Barhoush as chief of Ob-Gyn.

In other business, Lennon told the board, after a question by board member Dudley Barnes, that the hospital now had four ambulances, with three in operating condition, and three crews.

Lennon said one of the crews is at the hospital at all times, one is on call and the other is in use as a backup.

Barnes also asked Lennon whether he has experienced difficulty when people call for an ambulance and Lennon said there has been some difficulty.

The administrator noted there are four ways people have been attempting to get an ambulance and only two are effective.

"You can call Terry Moss (the former ambulance service operator) and that doesn't work," he said.

"You can call the hospital switchboard and that doesn't work because the line may be busy. You can call the ambulance number here at the hospital (996-3200) or you can call the number listed in the telephone book under 'ambulance' on the inside cover (996-7261) and get the county EMS

(Palm Beach County Emergency Ambulance Dispatch)."

Lennon said the problem has been with agencies in the Glades, such as the Florida Highway Patrol or the Sheriff's Office, calling the 996-3200 number and finding it busy.

He said the dispatching of ambulances would be handled smoother if the agencies call the county dispatch and private citizens would call the 996-3200 number.

Happy New Year!

We look forward to starting the 1980's in a Onerdful Way with you.

Taking it from the Top

By David T. Evans

The Christmas trees are beginning to dry out and the family has already thrown away all the wrappings.

The manger scenes have been packed away in their boxes for another year. No longer do we hear the echoing sounds of Christmas carols and even though the season of Christmas continues until January 6 (Epiphany), the thoughts of everyone are turning to other avenues - the New Year's Day football games, returning to school and even spring weddings.

Yet, we have just completed celebrating the most pivotal event in history in the birth of Jesus Christ. All history is divided before or after His birth.

After Christ, what? In the second chapter of Luke we find that Mary and Joseph take Jesus to the temple in Jerusalem to bring Him to the Lord according to the law of Moses and there they make a sacrifice.

After the presentation at Jerusalem, Simeon, an aged devout man, and Anna, a holy woman, saw Jesus and realized that He was the light for revelation to the people of the world.

Mary and Joseph then returned to their home village of Nazareth. After Christmas was a time of growth in the life of the Christ-child. As a parallel, after Christmas can be a time of growth for us.

Just as we have been drawn closer to God at this beautiful season, let us maintain a closeness to God by regular reading of His word and thinking about His love expressed in Christ.

We are to learn about God and His relationship to people and how that we might find the way we may work and walk with Him.

Christian growth is not to sentimentalize the Christ-Child, but to grow "in stature and in favor with God and man." Let us not keep Christ in the crib but let Him abide in our daily lives.

After Christmas, what? This is the time for evaluating our call by God in Christ. Our call is to be based on a faith in the incomparable character of God.

In the 40th chapter of Isaiah we read there is none like God and He is the everlasting one. No thing and no one can be compared with our Lord God. He is the creator of the ends of the earth. He does not faint or grow weary. His understanding is unsearchable.

Even as great as He is, God is concerned with each one of us. His love is just as great as He is majestic and it will cover His wrath of our sinful ways. His love will search us out, no matter how far we have gone from Him and no matter what we have done.

God's purpose includes that which is good for those who love Him. He also gives us the faith to trust His plans and goals for us.

After Christmas, what? This is the time for those who walk on the Lord. They shall receive renewed strength to carry out their mission in life. At the same time they will be given the wisdom which is a most necessary corollary to any mission.

Many times our problems come from the self-dependence that we have developed. We need again and again to submit ourselves completely to God saying, "Here I am, help me!"

God has promised that we will be able to carry on throughout our lifetime. The weariness in our daily life comes from lack of spiritual renewal. This renewal comes from constant communication with God.

He has set up the means but we must avail ourselves of it.

While Christmas is one of the great high points of the year and we get a great emotional charge from it, the rest of the time should not be a period of laxness and inactivity.

It should be a time in which we consolidate our spiritual gains of the previous year. We can now begin another lap, so that the next year will find us strengthened with spiritual depth to carry us through the temptations and pressures which beset us.

Earthen Vessels meet

Earthen Vessels Christian Fellowship are scheduled to meet Tuesday, Jan. 8 at 11 a.m. at the Pahokee Woman's Club.

The speaker will be Judy Williams of West Palm Beach who is the founder of these county-wide fellowships.

Judy is the wife of Rev. J.D.

Williams, pastor of Shekinah Christian Assembly. She is an ordained Baptist minister and has conducted numerous revival meetings.

The public is invited to come and enjoy a salad luncheon and hear this speaker.

For reservations call Carol Peaden at 924-2628 or Sibyl Crews, 924-7611.

Lake Area Obituaries

GEANIE T. RHODEN

CANAL POINT—Funeral services for Geanie T. Rhoden, 78, will be held today at the Dewitt C. Jones Funeral Home in Starke.

Mrs. Ruiz was a native of Los Villas, Cuba and came to this area nine years ago from Cuba. She died early Sunday morning at her residence after a lingering illness.

She was a member of St. Philip Benizi Church.

Survivors include her father, Odilo Cortez of Belle Glade; her husband, Santiago Ruiz of Belle Glade; one son, Jesus Ruiz of Belle Glade; one daughter, Zulema Ruiz of Belle Glade; four brothers, Manuel Cortez of Miami, Orlando Cortez, Ramon Cortez and Jose Cortez, all of Cuba; two sisters, Blanca Ruiz of Belle Glade and Josefina Rodriguez of Miami.

Burial was at the Flagler Memorial Park Cemetery in Miami. Mixson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

JACK WOODS

Funeral services were held December 19 in Douglas, Georgia for Jack Woods, 63, a former resident of Belle Glade, who passed away December 16.

Mr. Woods moved to the Glades in 1961 and lived here until 1976 when he bought an automobile repair business in Douglas. He died following an illness and passed away in a Gainesville hospital.

Mr. Woods is survived by his wife, Pearl; three sons, Tommy of Astula, and Timmy and Mark of Douglas; two daughters, Jackie of Belle Glade and Nancy of Douglas; his mother, a brother and a sister and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Sims Funeral Home Chapel in Douglas with burial following at Chattahoochee Cemetery.

MABLE YOUNG TEDDER

Mrs. Mable Young Tedder passed away Christmas Day at Grove-mont Nursing Home. Mrs. Tedder was born in Eau Gallie on May 7, 1892.

Her late husband, George E. Tedder was the founder and builder of the Agriculture Research and Education Center in Belle Glade.

Her parents, Charles and Mary Houston Young were early settlers of Brevard County, settling there in the late 1800's. Talbot Island was settled by her great grandfather, John Carroll Houston in 1813. She was a direct descendant of General Sam Houston.

She was a member of Sylvania Baptist Church of Miami. Survivors are her two nieces, Mrs. Marguerite Long Barton and Mrs. Evelyn Long Houston of Dundee. Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. in the Stanfill Kendall Chapel, Miami with interment at Woodlawn Cemetery in Winter Haven.

Singing in the New Year...

...is what Gramps called it! Every year at five to twelve he and Grandma would strike up a knowing chorus of Auld Lang Syne. Somehow we knew it would be a wonderful year because the family sang it in.

Facing the future as a family is a wonderful idea... not just on New Year's Eve, but every day in every season. Joys mean all the more when we share them with those we love. Disappointments are easier to accept when we stand together.

Every member of the family needs a shared spiritual foundation. The trust of each in God fortifies the faith of all the rest.

That is why our family worships together. And why, as we go forward into this exciting New Year, the song in our hearts is really a Hymn.

Christmas tournament is set this weekend

BELLE GLADE—Four Suncoast Conference West teams will get a chance to keep their hands in the basketball swing this weekend when Glades Central Community High School holds the Glades Invitational Tournament.

Pahokee and Fort Pierce Westwood High will kick off the tournament with the first match when they meet each other at 7 p.m. Friday, followed by game number two between Glades Central and Jupiter at 8:30 p.m.

Glades Central Coach Jay Seider

said the Saturday evening play will begin with the consolation game at 7 p.m. and wind up with the championship game at 8:30 p.m.

The Raiders are 1-6 for the season thus far but they're 1-0 in conference play, getting defeated by one Class AAA team and several Class AAAA teams.

"Our inexperience and lack of playing together has hurt us," Seider said. "We had six football players try out for the team after the football playoffs but I think only a couple will be able to help us."

MR. AND MRS. EVERETT CATO celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Dec. 26. The Catos have been residents of Belle Glade since Oct. of 1941. Mr. Cato was employed by Pioneer Land Company, a branch of Pioneer Growers Co-op for 34 years before retiring. The Cato's have one daughter, Caroline McAfee who lives in Ft. Lauderdale, two grandchildren and one great grandson.

Ten year old is killed on Christmas cycle

Ten year old Ronald Earl Edgington of Pahokee was killed Christmas Day when he lost control of his new mini-motorbike and crossed in front of an automobile at his home on East Main.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Ron Cucchiara said the youth had received the motorbike for Christmas and was riding it in the vacant lot next to his home when the accident occurred.

Cucchiara said the boy lost control of the bike and after striking the highway embankment, it crossed into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Shirley T. Kelly of Homestead.

The Pahokee Ambulance Service took the youth to Everglades Memorial Hospital and he was later transferred by the Palm Beach County Sheriff's helicopter to Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm. He died early the next day.

Cucchiara said no charges were filed in the accident and the boy's body is at Wetherington Funeral Home where arrangements are pending. Friends are asked to call Wetherington for more information on the services.

Pahokee man injured

Gilbert Guerrero of Pahokee was injured Monday when the car he was driving went out of control and slammed into a parked vehicle, then into a telephone pole.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Ron Cucchiara said the accident occurred at the intersection of Lakeshore Drive and US 441 in Canal Point and that both vehicles involved were totally destroyed.

Guerrero suffered head and internal injuries and was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm.

He was charged with reckless operation of a motor vehicle.

Cucchiara also said he investigated an accident on SR 80 the same day at Florida Atlantic Sugar Corporation. He said Alfonso Shannon of Riviera Beach was driving a 1974 Ford truck that overturned and skidded 180 feet before coming to a stop.

Shannon was later hospitalized at JFK Memorial Hospital in West Palm after first refusing to be treated at the scene.

Christmas lighting winners

Winners in the annual Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Christmas lighting contest have been announced.

Vee Herrington, Chamber secretary, said the Rose Petal won the business division and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatton took top honors in the residential category. There were no entries in the church division this year.

Honorable mentions in the business division included the Bank of Pahokee, Hendrix Hardware and Jackson's Variety Store while honorable mentions in the residential division included Ronnie Graydon, Tommy Culberson, Tina Elliott and Sandra Jarriel.

Both the Rose Petal and the Hattons, as winners in their respective divisions, will be given two free tickets to the annual Chamber banquet to be held later this year.

SWAT called to home in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE -- A local man was talked into surrendering himself Saturday after first apparently threatening his two daughters, then barricading himself in his home.

Police Detective Lt. Michael Miller said John Henry McCants, 51, of 1233 Vaughn Circle apparently had an argument with his family Saturday morning, then apparently pulled a gun on his daughters, Johnnie McCants, 19, and Melissa Ward, 15.

Miller said the two girls fled the house and telephoned the police.

When the police arrived, Miller said they found McCants barricaded in his home, refusing to allow anyone near. Officers evacuated people in nearby houses and called in the Palm Beach County SWAT Team headquartered at the Glades sub-station.

Miller said Lt. George Suttle, the SWAT Team leader, was able to talk to McCants and persuade him to give himself up. McCants surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Albert Harper.

After McCants surrendered, Belle Glade Police Detective Robbie Bronson found five handguns in the McCants home.

DUTY ROSTER

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman Victor J. Zawadzki III, son of Donna N. and Victor J. Zawadzki Jr. of Belle Glade has recently returned from a deployment in the North Atlantic.

He is a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Patterson, homeported in Mayport, FL.

TAX SAVINGS NOTICE

FROM DAVID L. REID, PALM BEACH COUNTY PROPERTY APPRAISER

Filing Period for Tax Saving Exemptions Begins January 2nd and ends March 1st FOR

HOMESTEAD — SENIOR CITIZENS EXEMPTION — WIDOWS — DISABLED VETERANS
NON-MILITARY DISABILITY — AGRICULTURAL — TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY
CHURCHES — CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS — EDUCATIONAL

REMEMBER: March 1st is last day allowed by law to file for Tax Exemptions

$10,000 IS THE MAXIMUM AMOUNT FOR EXEMPTIONS

Florida Law states that no property shall have more than $10,000 in exemptions applied. If, for example, a property owner was eligible for Senior Citizen's Homestead ($10,000), the Widow's Exemption ($500) and a War Veteran's Disability Exemption ($500), the total allowed would be $10,000 and not $11,000. (Exception: Veterans with 100% service connected disability.

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

FLORIDA LAW requires that applications be made by March 1, 1980, to be eligible for this $5,000.00 exemption. All three of these qualifications must be met:

1. You must have been a legal resident of Palm Beach County on January 1, 1980.

2. You must have owned the property on January 1, 1980.

3. You, or a person wholly supported by you, must have lived on the property as of January 1, 1980.

YOU MUST HAVE, in order to file, a Voter's Registration Card obtainable in Courthouse Annex, 810 Datura Street, if residency requirement is met, or a Declaration of Domicile if you have resided here for less than the required time (obtainable in Courthouse, Room 201 for $4.00), Florida Driver's License and Florida Vehicle Registration (if you drive and own a car).

YOU SHOULD HAVE, or you will be delayed, a Warranty Deed (Condo, and private home owners), Proprietary Lease or Certificate of Stock Ownership (Co-op owners), or other proof of ownership.

NOTE: Alien residents to qualify must also have a permanent Visa Card.

$5,000 ADDITIONAL SENIOR'S HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

This exemption applies to taxes levied by county, school and local government as well as special taxing districts. To be eligible, the applicant must qualify for Homestead Exemption, be at least sixty-five years of age as of January 1st, 1980, and have been a permanent resident of Florida for at least five consecutive years as of January 1st, 1980. To file for the first time, you should bring proof of age and of your residency (old tax bills, voter's registration card or similar proof).

$500 WIDOWS EXEMPTION

Any widow who is a permanent Florida resident may claim this exemption. If the widow remarries, she is no longer eligible and if the husband and wife were divorced before his death, the woman is not considered a widow. If filing for the first time, please present a Death Certificate or other proof of your widow status.

DISABLED VETERAN'S EXEMPTION

A disabled veteran who has 10% or more wartime disability is entitled to an additional $500.00 beyond Homestead Exemption. A "V.A." letter must accompany application, or other acceptable record of disability. Veterans who are totally and permanently disabled as a result of certain service connected disabilities should contact the Appraiser's Office for determination of other special benefits.

AGRICULTURAL (Greenbelt) FILINGS

All owners or lessees of agricultural lands who desire agricultural zoning for tax purposes on their property must file an agricultural return every year with the Appraiser between January 1 and March 1.

NON-VETERAN DISABILITY EXEMPTION ($5,000 for five year residents)

Every Florida resident who is totally and permanently disabled qualifies for this $500 exemption. If the applicant is a five year resident of the State, this increases to a $5,000 exemption. If filing for the first time, the applicant must qualify for Homestead Exemption and present proof of the total and permanent disability by obtaining certificates from two licensed physicians of the State who are professionally unrelated. Residency must be for 5 consecutive years as of January 1, 1980. Quadriplegics should contact the Appraiser's Office for special benefit information. If blind or confined to a wheelchair and total income is less than $8200.00 per year, including Social Security, contact the Appraiser's Office for determination of other special benefits.

TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY

Exemption requests for Tangible Personal Property must be filed with the County Appraiser no later than March 1st. Non-Exempt Tangible Personal Property returns must be filed no later than April 1st. Failure to file a return will result in a penalty and an assessment will be made as provided by Florida law. Tangible Personal Property includes property such as business furniture and fixtures, machinery and equipment, stock of merchandise, household goods and personal effects. (Florida residents are exempt from the tax on household goods and personal effects.) The deadline for charitable and qualified non-profit organizations eligible for such exemption is March 1st. All others must file by April 1st.

MARCH 1st IS THE FINAL DAY TO FILE

To help serve the property owners throughout Palm Beach County better, our representatives will be at the following locations on the dates listed below from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 P.M.

Senior intern program is set

WASHINGTON D.C. -- Congressman Dan Mica (D-West Palm Beach) announced this week he will sponsor a senior citizen intern to participate in a specially-designed two week Washington workshop program in May.

"This unique aspect in intern programs was inaugurated six years ago and has more than doubled in the number of participants and Members of the House and Senate sponsoring individuals," Mica explained.

He continued, "I foresee a ripple effect in the dissemination of information from the Federal level with the involvement of a senior citizen, especially with the large percentage of constituents in this category."

To be eligible for consideration as an intern, an applicant must be

50 years of age and in good health, and must complete an application form. The deadline for requesting an application form is Jan. 31, and final submission of completed form is Feb. 29. For more information and an application form write Congressman Dan Mica, at 512 Cannon HOB, Washington, D.C. 20515.

MADE'S GENERAL HOSPITAL honored its employee of the month recently with cake and punch for all. Being honored is Susie Simmons, who has been employed at the hospital as a nurses aide since 1955. Mrs. Simmons was congratulated by Sandra Chamblee as being a dependable and loyal employee.

Catos look forward to 50 more

"This is equal opportunity," I thought, when offered the chance to write for this column. Gee, just think, a chance to express all my thoughts and ideas on so many subjects. Well, think again, cause when it came time to really sit down and put all my lofty thoughts on paper, you guessed it, my mind was totally null and void.

So I decided that for the most part, this column will be designated to the social, the happenings within the community that people are so interested in. So, I'll get on with it.

Yesterday, Evert and Jessie Cato celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. I called Mrs. Cato to see if she and her husband would be willing to let me come to their home for an interview. We agreed on a time that was convenient for both the Catos and myself.

Fifty years, I thought to myself on the way over, that's a long time to live with someone. With the divorce rate today, and the reluctance of many couples to enter into the permanency of marriage, it seemed good to be about to meet a couple who had made it this far.

I was met at the door by a very spry and cheerful gentlemen who ushered me in and said his wife would be with us in a moment. She must have been in the kitchen where wonderful smelling odors were being emitted.

Mrs. Cato turned out to be a slim and quiet spoken person.

When asked what she thought made for a good marriage, she hesitated and then said, "I believe it takes joint co-operation, and a willingness to talk things out."

"I'm the boss outside and she's the boss inside," Mr. Cato interjected, with a laugh. Mrs. Cato said she didn't think there were any bosses.

When the interview was almost over, I asked them if there was anything else they would like to tell me about themselves.

Mrs. Cato said she was a housewife who had had the privilege of raising two children, and helping to raise her grandchildren and her great-grandson. She said her and her husband got married the day after Christmas because it was during the depression and that was the only time Mr. Cato could get off to get married.

Mr. Cato said "Well, why don't you ask me about my hobbies." Of course! I had forgotten something important. So, I asked him what his hobbies were. With a wave of his hand he told me that almost all of the furniture in their home had been hand-made by himself.

It was lovely. End tables in a checkerboard pattern, lovingly hand carved lamps, and a glass-covered coffee table that held many beautiful shells, most of which were found on the shores of Lake Okeechobee. Some he pointed out as being very rare. On a shelf in the hall, was an intricately designed "Petticoat Junction" train.

It was time to leave, I had been fortunate enough to meet a warm and talented couple who had a good marriage and were looking forward to the future. Happy Anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Cato.

NEEDLEWORK NEWS & NOTES
Marvelous Macramé
Macramé is the art of ornamental knotting. It's a great way to make things that can get you out of the knotty problem of what to get on gift-giving occasions. One of the more interesting knots you can make is the berry knot. It adds surface texture to a macramé piece, looks lovely on planters, headbands, belts, and wall hangings.

Knot: Berry nice!
According to the experts who wrote the Reader's Digest Complete Guide to Needlework—which also makes a great gift, available at bookstores, full as it is with easy-to-do projects and beautiful illustrations—you make this knot with a series of double half stitches, pulled up and kept in place with square knots. You may find the berry knot a very fruitful way to produce beautiful macramé.

HOME BUYER CLINIC
By William J. McAuliffe, Jr., Executive Vice President American Land Title Association

Expensive Settlement
When buying a home, you acquire not only the land and whatever is built on it—but also any and all encumbrances attached to the real estate whether you are aware of them or not. Also, what you may seem apparent to you but is not so apparent to others. And settling the disagreement may be expensive.

In the midwest, a buyer was surprised by a lawsuit filed by a previous owner claiming that the buyer had received a deed to more land than the previous owner had intended to convey. Since the buyer was protected by owner's title insurance, the title company retained a lawyer who determined that the previous owner was correct although the buyer had never thought she was receiving all the land described in the deed. An exchange of deeds was arranged and the suit was dismissed. This still left attorney fees and costs incurred in the defense, which the title insurer paid to spare the buyer financial loss.

The purchase of a home is the largest investment of a lifetime for most of us. For free information on precautions, write American Land Title Association, Box 566, Washington, D.C. 20044.

Nothing Nails Down the Glades Area Like We Do.

There is only one news medium that takes an active interest in the Glades area, not taken coverage. No summarized briefs, but news about the people, your neighbors, your friends.

There is only one advertising medium that offers your business the favorable image newspapers can provide. And statistics still prove that newspapers continue to have dominant drawing power for advertising results.

Tru-Flo corporation opened a new import shop here recently. The business, which is called World Imports, is open for business.

The shop, which carries many wood items, woven baskets, mahogany items, etc., has many different price ranges for different budgets, according to Annette Brownlee, the manager for the shop.

Many of the wood items are Taverno, and all of the shops goods are from Haiti.

"Because we are doing the importing ourselves, we are eliminating the middleman, therefore, we can afford to offer these items at a reasonable price," Ms. Brownlee said.

The import shop plans to import items from all over the world, and their next stop according to Ms. Brownlee, will be Columbia.

Officers are ordered to carry guns

Hear this, Mr. and Ms. recreational boater: expect Coast Guard personnel boarding your boat to be armed.

This fact in no way changes or detracts from the Coast Guard's friendly mission of offering advice and assistance to recreational boaters.

Because of the Coast Guard's increasing involvement in combating illegal drug trafficking in U. S. waters and the potential for danger when boarding privately-owned vessels, Commandant John B. Hayes has ordered all boarding officers to wear sidearms.

Rear Admiral Bernie Thompson, Chief of the Office of Boating Safety, said that the use of recreational craft in drug smuggling has become commonplace. "Unfortunately," Thompson said, "a boat engaged in illegal activity usually looks exactly the same as one operating legally. When our personnel discover illegal activity aboard a recreational vessel they must be equipped to protect themselves," Thompson points out.

Thompson compared the new Coast Guard policy to those which require police officers to carry sidearms.

"The Coast Guard is the major federal maritime law enforcement agency," he said. "Like other law enforcement officers, Coast Guard personnel, although not anticipating trouble, must be equipped and ready to take the action necessary to enforce the law."

Belle Glade High reunion is Saturday

The Belle Glade High School Class of 1943, the first graduating class of the old high school, will have its first-ever reunion on Sunday, December 29.

The class attended school in Pahokee up until their senior year and consisted of 26 students. Dr. Clarence Kidder said 18 of those students have agreed to be at the reunion.

Festivities will get underway with a social hour beginning at 7 p.m. at the Belle Glade Country Club and following dinner, a program will be held in the old high school, now the elementary school. One of the highlights of the gathering will be the return of F. O. Hobson, the first principal of Belle Glade High. Hobson, now retired, makes his home on the east coast.

"We'll have a rap session," said Kidder, "to renew old friendships and find out what our fellow students have been doing all these years."

Anyone who graduated with the class but who have not yet been contacted is urged to contact Mrs. Lois Tidwell Davis.

To Our Friends
in the Glades, we wish a Happy Holiday.
